Five weddings in Bellaire yesterday.
Dog fights are numerous in Martinsburg.
MARIETTA has a new bank—capital, $75,000.
BASE BALL is again talked of by our professionals.
PRIVATE theatricals are the rage in the East at present.

The ladies, as usual, say that the spring bonnets are to be of ones.
The average value of land per acre in Belmont county (O.) is $35.27.
RAILROAD MEETING.—There will be a railroad meeting in Bellaire to-night.

The scarcity of work and the stringency of money are general and loud complaints.
COLDER.—Yesterday was quite cool, and overcoats and gloves were voted comfortable.

The Court of Common Pleas of Belmont county convened on Wednesday last, Judge Way presiding.
Is it strictly in accordance with the spirit of the city ordinances to obstruct public pavements with coal, &c.?

We see no more that popular vehicle, the bicycle, careering through our streets. Whither has it vanished?
MANY of our ladies wish more of our street-smokers and puffers were attached to steam-pipes than to meerschaums.

A PONTOON BRIDGE would be a safe and serviceable convenience over a certain street-crossing in South Wheeling.
CONVENIENT.—The last improvement in muffs consists of a small circular mirror placed on the back very convenient to re-arrange crimps by.

PERSONAL.—That eminent and graceful Anglo-African "chorist," "General Gaines," of our neighboring city of Bridgeport, was in town yesterday.

BLUSTERING.—The eccentric freaks o old Boreas upon our streets yesterday, inclined one to the opinion that winter was beginning to "linger in the lap of spring."

BUSINESS is irregular, uncertain, and difficult to characterize. Some lines of trade are unusually active, and pushing out with surprising energy—and others are just as stagnant.

OLD SOL.—The King of Day seemed yesterday to be playing hide-and-seek with his colleague, the wind. We were occasionally visited by rays of sunshine, but they didn't last long.

A FALL.—Last evening a boy named Frank Arthur, son of N. C. Arthur, fell from the top of an ice-house to the ground, a distance of some eight or ten feet, severely injuring his head in the fall.

FOR SALE.—From a Martin's Ferry correspondent of the Bellaire Independent, we learn that there are in that place "ten shares for sale in the Bridgeport & Soytown Canal and Glenn's Run Slack-water Navigation Companies."

A BREEZE.—A lively fisticuff transpired on Market street yesterday, much to the amusement of passers-by. A policeman hove in sight, the belligerents scuttled, and we bore off a couple of points in quest of something else to blow about.

A HIRE.—It is to be hoped that our young ladies are enjoying the trailing street-dresses now that we are having such charming walking. If the muddy pavements only result in the abolition of these trails, we ought to be thankful for it.

THE END.—Prepare, O ye people, for the end draweth near. Those prophetic and far-seeing people who reside in Massachusetts, the Millerites, have met in solemn convocation and ordained that to-morrow will be the final day of judgment.

BELMONT COUNTY, OHIO.—The report of the Receipts and Expenditures of Belmont county for the year ending September 1, 1870, has been published. The receipts amount to $336,799.73, and the expenditures $329,740.68. It cost the county in one year $2,471 for printing, and $1,615.24 for blank books and stationery.

HOMES FOR SOLDIERS.—A bill has recently passed Congress which enables honorably discharged soldiers and sailors, their widows and orphan children, to acquire homesteads on the public lands of the United States. The bill is one in which every veteran is intimately interested.

COUPON REGULATIONS.—Coupons of the United States should not be trimmed.
Aside from the fact that no regulation prejudicial to the payment of interest on United States securities should be adopted, the department is especially strenuous against the trimming of coupons, for the reason that the correspondence between the edges of coupons detached from the same bond is often the only means of identifying coupons in case of mutilation or loss or altered numbers or dates.

THE VALENTINE.—Those hideous car-tunes peculiar to the season are exhibited in the show windows of the periodical stores. We recognize many of the stereotyped forms of annoying and insulting different trades, professions, and occupations, by burlesque pictures and poetry.

Some novelties are added this year, intended to burlesque what is popularly called the "woman's movement." There are women working at all manner of trades, driving drays, conducting street cars, acting as auctioneers, &c. The rhymes attached are as vulgar as such rhymes usually are. We shall despair for our civilization until these atrocities are done away with.

THE CENTURY.—There has been a good deal of conjecture as to why Enoch Morgan's Sons called their new brand of soap (lately introduced in this city) the Century. A friend of ours suggests a reason —a hundred years is a long time. Now, while they did not wish to leave the impression that the Century Soap would really last so long a time, (if used), they did wish it to be understood that a very long time, perhaps more than a hundred years, would elapse before anything better would be gotten up. We ourselves are of the opinion that the article has considerable merit.

GOOD NEWS.—Very good news comes from Washington. The bells of Washington society has appeared at three grand evening parties this season in the same costume! Furthermore, ladies high in the social firmament of the National Capital have gone to great receptions and select soirees in the dresses which they wore last winter. This is a sensible as well as economical innovation, and one that all the cities of the country cannot copy too soon.

"ETHEREAL MILDNESS."—The well-meaning and enthusiastic, but misguided, individual who stood near the postoffice yesterday morning and exclaimed, "Hail, gentle spring!" was an illustration of a queer phase of human nature. His addition of "Ethereal mildness, come," however, was more rational, as it might be regarded as an invitation for said mild-ness to approach. Up to the present writing, mildness has not approached to any great extent.

ANOTHER FIRE.—Yesterday morning about four o'clock, some oil in the glasshouse of Hubbs, Brockmiller & Co., in South Wheeling, was discovered to be on fire. Considerable time elapsed before the flames were extinguished, which was not done without a great deal of trouble. The damage is but trifling, although considerable excitement existed in that community after the alarm was given.

VALUE OF PROPERTY OVER IN BEL-MONT.—The aggregate value of lots, lands, and buildings, in Bridgeport, is $905,913; West Wheeling, $40,080; Martins' Ferry, $406,035; St. Clairsville, $188,860; Bellaire, $447,050; Barnesville, $491,289. The above is the value of the property as equalized by the present Board.

RAN OFF.—The train which left this city Wednesday afternoon, on the Hempfield Railroad, ran off the track just beyond the West Alexander tunnel. The pumps of the engine were broken by the accident, and the mail, express, passengers, &c., were carried a distance of twelve or fifteen miles in wagons.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Several buildings on Hampden street in East Wheeling, have been remodelled, and improved generally, recently. We like to see this; but we have never yet seen the expediency of obstructing the greater part of the street with stone, lime, &c., used for such purposes.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.—A new lodge of the Knights of Pythias, to be known as Humboldt Lodge, No. 9, K. of P., will be instituted to-morrow evening, in the Odd Fellows' room over Stubebruch's Hall, South Wheeling. The members of Baltimore and Germania Lodges will attend and assist in the ceremonies.

I LOVE YOU.—The new perfume, at Finney's.
POLICE COURT.—J. Dorsey was found travelling the streets rather loosely—another victim of the elbow-crook. "One dollar and costs."
Margaret McCormick has been in this court before. She was fined one dollar and costs for drunkenness.
Two cases! It is well.
"I LOVE YOU."—The new perfume at Finney's 2 doors below the McClure House A MAMMOTH bill-board, covered with glaring bills, adorned John street, opposite the Postoffice, Wednesday. During the night of that day it blew down. Yesterday it was rebuilt, and last evening flashed blazed with its highly-wrought pictures.

POST-OFFICE ITEMS.—J. C. Ballard has been re-appointed postmaster at Indian Mound, Monroe county, vice A. A. McCormick, declined.
Martin Spangler has been appointed postmaster at Clayville, Washington county, Pa., vice William H. Adams, resigned.

The salary of the postmaster at Taylors-town, Washington county, Pa., has been fixed at $110 instead of $74. The increased rate is to take effect from April 1st.

The postoffice at Uniontown, Fayette county, Pa., has been designated as a separating office, and the postmaster allowed $300 per year additional for clerical assistance.
